

Pat,

The consensus among industry leaders is that selecting one platform is best practice when it comes to capital programs management and collaboration among all parties involved in delivering major infrastructure projects.

Denver RTD FastTracks and Capital Programs needed a way to connect over 3,000 project members from 150 organizations across dozens of individual projects. As a public project, they needed a way to maximize every dollar. With Aconex, they achieved the following results:

- $116 million saved in direct cost reductions, productivity increases, schedule acceleration, dispute avoidance, and rework reductions
- Timely review and approval of 2.3M documents, using built-in automated workflows
- Control & management of project information at all levels, across all projects

Aconex and its leading capital program management platform ticked all the boxes for this $5-billion-dollar program. Listen to their case study below.

View video here.

Learn more about how to keep your next infrastructure program on track by hearing from CGLA's Norm Anderson, CH2M, and a discussion around the Fargo Moorhead flood diversion program – view webinar.

Regards,

Chris Dobbyn
SVP of Americas
Aconex